DiSalle Pays Surprise Visit To Hospital

Governor Irked by Poor Conditions at Cleveland Institution

CLEVELAND (AP)—What he saw on a surprise visit to Cleveland State Hospital has strengthened Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's resolve to improve conditions in Ohio's 25 mental hospitals.

"The crowded conditions have not to be eliminated," the governor said. And during his tour of the building he remarked to his administrative assistant, Maurice J. Connell:

"The more I see the more convinced I am of what I said we should do."

Neither he nor Connell would elaborate on what operational changes DiSalle had in mind, but the governor did say, when asked if his plans were long-range:

"We have no long-range plans. They are all short-range plans."

Other surprise visits to mental hospitals are planned. The one DiSalle made here Thursday came while Dr. William L. Grover, the hospital superintendent, was on vacation.

In addition to overcrowding, a lack of cleanliness and low staff morale appeared to cause the governor the greatest concern.

He called a dirty dining room floor "a situation that shouldn't be permitted to exist." And he objected to the odor in the walking refrigerator and dust on the metal salt containers.

Why, he asked, were there no napkins for the patients at lunch? And, while feeling a mattress: "What are these things made of—lumps?"

When informed by Dr. Victor Koby, clinical director, that the 16 doctors on the staff seemed uninterested in disturbing "the peaceful skin on top that covers the deficiencies underneath," the governor observed:

"I don't think civil service should be used as a shield for doctors. We've got to get rid of doctors who are not interested in their patients. Forget the state. It's humanity we're interested in."

Sen. Guyer To Give Talk At GOP Rally

State Senator Tennyson Guyer of Findlay will be the principal speaker at the Columbiana County Republican Women's Club dinner for the county GOP candidates on Sept. 23.

The Wednesday meeting will start at 6:30 p.m. It will be held at Joshua Dixon School in Columbiana.

Reservations for the dinner can be made by calling Mrs. Letha Astor or Miss Elma Auld in Salem, they said today.

The state legislator's visit to Columbiana was arranged by Mrs. J. H. Hunt, president, and Mrs. Boyd Cunningham, program chairman.

Candidates for most county and district offices and other Republican notables are expected to attend the affair.

WARREN BROWN DAY — Warren Brown, above (r.) is presented a tape recording of the program honoring him for his attendance record at the Kiwanis Club meeting Thursday. Making the presentation is Dr. C. J. Lehwald, program chairman. James Giffin (r.) was elected president of the club.

Kiwanis Club Elects Giffin

Members Observe 'Warren Brown Day'

James Giffin was elected president and Warren Brown was honored for his record of 36 years' of perfect attendance when the Kiwanis Club met for its weekly luncheon Thursday noon in the Memorial Building.

Giffin will succeed Orein Naragon. The day was designated as "Warren Brown Day" in honor of Brown who is a charter member of the organization which was formed 38 years ago. Another member who was in the charter group is Charles Haldi.

Brown, who lives at 2164 E. State St., is a real estate agent.

The club members presented him with a slide projector, and a tape recording of the program at which he was honored. He also received a citation from the Kiwanis International for his record.

Dr. C. J. Lehwald was chairman of the program.

Giffin, who is associated with Stark's Memorial Funeral Home, lives at 140 Hawley Ave.

Other officers elected are: Ralph Martin, first vice president; John Callahan, second vice president; Norman Eckfeld, treasurer.

New directors are Delmer Smith, John Liggett and Ralph Landwert.

It was reported that the club has 72 active members, in comparison with 50 who were original members of the organization.

Jury Commissioner Appointed by Judge

LISBON — J. Clifford Conley of East Liverpool Wednesday, was appointed jury commissioner by Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard. He succeeds the late Thomas Abraham.

An employee of the Crucible Steel Co. at Midland, Pa., he formerly worked for 23 years for the Valley Motor Transit Co., East Liverpool. He is married and has three sons and three daughters.

James S. Gregg of Salem is the other jury commissioner.

Full Treasuries to Be Committed

Unions Approve Fund To Aid Steelworkers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—AFL-CIO unions are expected to approve a fund today of some 25 to 30 million dollars per month to aid striking steelworkers.

The federation's 135 unions were due to commit their full treasuries, plus a pledge of outright grants, to aid the half-million steelworkers in their 66-day strike. The strike fund is supposed to guarantee that no steel striker or his family goes hungry and that the steel union will not have to weaken its demands because of financial shortage.

Already the steel union has been pledged a total of over 2½ million dollars from fellow unions.

Under the proposal due for adoption today every one of the 12½ million AFL-CIO members

British Proposal Drops Problems

U.N. Assembly Gets Disarmament Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Britain's new disarmament plan seems to drop some of the conditions that have hampered East-West agreement in the past.

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd presented it to the U.N. General Assembly Thursday, thus getting in ahead of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev who promised to present a Soviet plan during his appearance before the Assembly today.

Lloyd, who spoke in the Assembly's general policy debate, was the first big-power to lay down a plan for discussion in new disarmament talks to start in an evenly balanced East-West committee in Geneva early next year.

He proposed disarmament in three stages—first, agreement to stop nuclear tests and technical study conference on other particular problems; second, a gradual cutback in conventional arms and manpower and a cutoff in production of fissionable material for weapons; and third, "comprehensive disarmament by all powers"—all "under effective international control."

Observers of years of fruitless disarmament negotiations saw these new elements in Lloyd's plan.

He did not say the second stage should be carried out only if "there has been progress toward the solution of political issues."

He did not say the nuclear powers would be free to resume testing after 24 months if in that time there had not been satisfactory progress toward setting up an inspection system to police a production cutoff.

Vanguard III Attains Orbit; Shot Successful

Firing Revives Sagging Rocketry Prestige of U.S.

CAPE CANAVERL, Fla. (AP)—The Vanguard II satellite soared into orbit today and revived sagging U.S. prestige in the space exploration field.

The 100-pound satellite was boosted aloft by the last of the Vanguard rockets. The Vanguard, once the scapegoat for American space failures, thus ended its hard luck history on a triumphant note.

The success followed two straight American space flops. Just 14 hours before, a Thor-Able rocket fizzled in an attempt to place a 265-pound navigation satellite in orbit. On Wednesday, a Jupiter missile carrying mice and frogs on a space flight exploded 1,000 feet above its launching pad.

The flops came while Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev visited this country, basking in the limelight of Sunday's successful Soviet moon strike.

The satellite was the third put up in 11 tries by the Vanguard. It includes the 50-pound payload and the 5-pound third-stage rocket, which remained attached.

Its job was to measure the earth's magnetic field, solar X rays, micrometeorite bombardment and temperatures inside and outside the satellite.

Shaped like an ice cream cone, Vanguard III is made of magnesium and fiberglass. It consists of a 20-inch sphere with a 26-inch tube extending from it. The tube is tapered from 6 to 2½ inches in diameter.

In the tip of the cone is a magnetometer to measure the magnetic field and help locate pockets of dangerous radiation. The information may help man draw a map of the safest route to the moon and other planets.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced the successful orbit 2 hours and 50 minutes after launch. It said the new satellite is expected to swing as far out as 2,300 miles in space and as close to the earth as 315 miles. This is very similar to the orbits of Vanguards I and II.

NASA officials estimated the satellite would remain aloft for 30 to 40 years. They said its radio equipment should operate for about three months.

U.S.-Red Debate Goes to U.N. Stage

10 Persons Are Injured In Traffic Mishaps

Four Hospitalized; Authorities Probe Eight Accidents

Four of 10 persons injured in automobile accidents early today and Thursday are in Salem hospitals today.

Admitted to the Central Clinic for lacerations of the head and body were Mrs. Leonard Engler, 19, and her three-year-old daughter, Jackie. Both are in fairly good condition, Clinic officials said.

Also hospitalized was Marvin Norman, 16, of RD 1, North Benton, with a concussion and shoulder injuries. He is in good condition.

At City Hospital is Harold Williams, 37, of RD 2, East Liverpool who is in fair condition with facial cuts and possible back and chest injuries.

The patients were injured in four of eight traffic accidents investigated by the State Highway Patrol, Mahoning County sheriff's deputies and city police.

The first accident yesterday occurred shortly before noon at E. 2nd St. and N. Lundy Ave. when autos driven by Clara J. Rhodes, 55, of Winona Rd. and Hazel H. Jackson, 66, of Ellsworth Rd. collided. Mrs. Jackson was cited for reckless operation in the mishap which sent both women to Central Clinic for treatment of hand injuries.

In another traffic mishap in Salem, Lowell R. Fleischer, 22, of 1541 E. State St. backed his auto out of his driveway and into the path of a car operated by Hermina A. Spear, 44, of Washingtonville at 4:23 p.m., police said.

About 20 minutes later, highway patrolmen from Lisbon investigated a two-car accident on Rt. 30, about five miles south of Lisbon, which happened when Napoleon T. Cardozo, 68, of East Liverpool, attempted to pass a car driven by June Anderson, 46, of Monongahela, Pa., on a bridge.

Cardozo was arrested after his auto hit the side of the bridge and then ran into the side of the other car, patrolmen said.

Two members of the Engler family were hospitalized after their auto, going south on Duck Creek Rd., collided with an east-bound truck on Rt. 165 at 6:30 p.m.

The truck was driven by Leonard W. Basinger, 45, of RD 1, North Lima. Canfield post highway patrolmen arrested Leonard Engler, 26, as a result of the mishap. He was treated at Central Clinic for cuts and bruises.

At 9:05 p.m. Ralph B. McGuire, 18, of MC 21, ran his car off County Rd. 409, about a mile north of Salem, to avoid hitting a car operated by Gary A. Thomas, 19, of Alliance. McGuire told highway patrolmen the other motorist pulled out in front of him.

It was the second referendum rejection for a pension plan. Two years ago, the trade voted down a proposal that would have covered the international officials as well as the office employees at headquarters here.

The Pottery Herald, official union newspaper, commented: "In defeating the pension plan for the second time, the trade vote indicated the members are opposed to granting pensions to their officials until the membership as a whole is covered under a contract providing pensions."

Rev. Milligan Conducts Service Here

Rev. Fruit Accepts Call From District Church

The Rev. Richard Fruit, assistant pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, has accepted a call from the Lake Milton Community Church.

Announcement of his impending departure was made on the day following the first service in the Presbyterian Church conducted by the Rev. Bruce E. Milligan of Okmulgee, Okla., who has received a call to serve as pastor here, succeeding the Rev. Laten Carter.

Rev. Fruit has served the local church as assistant since January, succeeding the Rev. William Spearman. He began as student assistant pastor in November.

Rev. Fruit is a graduate of Geneva College and Western Theological Seminary in Pittsburgh, and was ordained in February.

He will begin his new pastorate Oct. 5.

Rev. Milligan was speaker at a special worship service Thursday evening at the church, which was followed by a congregational meeting.

Rev. Milligan is presently pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Okmulgee, Okla. He received his degrees from a commercial college in Des Moines, Iowa, Monmouth College in Illinois, and Pittsburgh-Xenia Seminary. He is married and has four children.

He even threatened to walk out of the Waldorf - Astoria Hotel's grand ballroom, where he was addressing the New York Economic Club. His audience was made up of about 2,000 of the country's top industrial and business leaders.

He had been answering questions with the same show of joviality he had displayed earlier in the day. Then a guest asked him: Why, if he was so intent upon mutual Soviet-American understanding, were not the Soviet people allowed to listen to U.S. broadcasts? Why weren't American newspapers and periodicals allowed to circulate freely? Why were American newsmen's dispatches censored?

Khrushchev parried: He and President Eisenhower had agreed their discussions would not involve interference in each other's internal affairs.

Soviet Premier Reported Ready With Surprise

Khrushchev Irked By Interruptions at New York Dinner

NEW YORK (AP)—The great Soviet-American traveling debate moves today to the stage of the United Nations Assembly, with Nikita Khrushchev, already showing signs of testiness, reported ready to spring a Soviet surprise.

The Soviet Premier, after three full and rugged days of speaking and touring, lost his temper momentarily in public Thursday night. But he quickly recovered his usual aplomb.

His appearance before the U.N. will be the highlight of another busy day. It is generally expected he will make some new surprise announcement regarding disarmament. Already he has promised a Soviet proposal on the subject.

Khrushchev has centered much of his attention in the Communist-Western debate on the idea that the Soviet system inevitably will overwhelm the Western way. It was in a question-and-answer discussion of the two systems that the stocky, 5-foot-3 Russian suddenly snapped back at his audience.

He even threatened to walk out of the Waldorf - Astoria Hotel's grand ballroom, where he was addressing the New York Economic Club. His audience was made up of about 2,000 of the country's top industrial and business leaders.

He had been answering questions with the same show of joviality he had displayed earlier in the day. How to Get the Best Education For Your Child

Score Card for a Good School
Devised by Education Experts

This is the ninth of 15 articles, condensed from the book, "How To Get the Best Education for Your Child," written by the former education editor of the New York Times and his wife, an educator herself.

By DR. BENJAMIN FINE AND LILLIAN FINE

When our fourth child was born we realized that a four-and-one-half-room apartment in the city would no longer be sufficient.

Then began a year-long hunt for a proper home. The public school situation loomed ominously important. We wanted schools that had friendly, cheerful teachers. We wanted a school system that could treat our children as individuals. We wanted a school system that paid its teachers enough to keep them happy and one that had an up-to-date curriculum and decent equipment for the children.

We sat in one third-grade classroom, "Stop wiggling," the teacher admonished her 9-year-olds. We left the class with a shudder of relief that we hadn't bought a house in that area.

Finally, we found the four-bedroom house we wanted. We didn't find the school system quite to our liking. But we found enough public-minded people who joined us in helping to improve it.

In our search for a good school system, we compiled a check list that we found helpful in measuring the efficiency of an educational program.

Teachers

What is the average size of classes in our schools? How do we compare with neighboring schools on this and the other points?

What are the maximum and minimum salaries for teachers? How many teachers have masters or doctoral degrees?

How many teachers are teaching on emergency certificates? How many have had the experience of teaching in other systems? How many have taught less than three years or more than 35 years?

How many have taught in this community less than three years? How many have traveled in other countries, held positions in business, or speak a foreign language?

Do they show evidence of wide cultural interests? How many take part in professional organizations?

Are our teachers well groomed? Do they speak clearly and use good English?

Do they inspire most youngsters with hope and ambition?

Do we give recognition to outstanding teachers?

Do our teachers have adequate sick leave, a good retirement system, group insurance?

Community

Is the community proud of its schools? Is adequate housing at reasonable cost available for teachers?

Does the community impose special restrictions on teachers or discriminate against married teachers?

Do teachers feel free to express opinions about community issues?

What is the attitude of the local press toward the schools? Are board of education meetings open to the public?

Do civic organizations take a helpful interest in the schools? Is there evidence of unethical practices in purchases of school supplies and school construction?

Children

Do the children appear interested? Do they work well together?

Do they show respect for the teacher and one another? Do they require a great deal of supervision?

Do they treat school property with consideration? How serious is the truancy problem?

Are most of the children able to read, write, and express themselves well?

Are they physically active? Does the school arrange regular, thorough physical examinations?

Buildings

When were the school buildings built? Are they overcrowded?

Are they safe from fire? Is there good lighting, ventilation and heating?

Are there enough lavatories? Are they supervised?

Is there a playground? Is there a clean, attractive place for children to eat lunch?

Is there enough well-equipped playground space? Does each school have a tele-

Is the subject matter adapted to the needs of the children?

In elementary grades, do periods of hard mental concentration alternate whenever possible with physical activity or a relaxing activity such as singing?

In the high schools is a variety of academic courses offered? Do bright children have an opportunity to learn a foreign language?

To what extent is the curriculum enriched by audio-visual aids? Are concerts, lectures, and class visits to museums, etc., arranged?

Is instruction in music and art an integral part of the curriculum?

Is there a room where teachers can relax or correct papers, or make plans?

Miscellaneous

Does each school have a pleasant atmosphere? Is the superintendent well regarded?

Are the principals dictatorial? Does student government really function?

Is there a testing program to determine abilities, aptitudes, and achievements of all students? What attention is given to gifted children?

What per cent of the graduating class goes to college? Are the textbooks modern and attractive? Are supplementary books and teaching aids used?

Does the school offer many extracurricular activities? What is the amount of tax money spent per pupil compared with other communities?

Regardless of everything else, if you do not have good warm, happy, stable, conscientious teachers, you will not have a successful school system.

Mr. K. Is No Out-of-Town Buyer

There's no time now to do any more stage-setting for the premier of the Soviet Union. It can be hoped he may take no notice of signs that the United States reacted to his visit as if it had to prove something.

Even if his government's numerous employees in this country report all these signs, it is possible the Premier may lack time to study them. The implications are not reassuring.

They reveal a depth and a breadth of ignorance about Khrushchev's role in these mid-century years that must make a man in his position wonder if Americans never read the newspapers they buy by the millions.

Are Americans unaware of the march of events in China, a country whose population is so large it cannot be counted but can only be estimated as upward of three quarters of a billion people? Are they unaware of the magnitude of the Asiatic land mass and its teeming hordes, now being introduced in China and India to the tools of modern industrialism? Do they realize what nuclear weapons would mean in the hands of a government that could sacrifice half a billion people and thereby make itself stronger? Have they forgotten that President Eisenhower said the meetings with Khrushchev concerned the "future of the human race"? Don't they know what is meant by "Communist conspiracy"?

The head of the Russian state is no out-of-town buyer who must be wined and dined to make a good impression so he can be sold something. He doesn't give two whoops in an ideological rain barrel what supermarkets and widge factories look like.

Premier Khrushchev wants to talk terms in a discussion of survival in the second half of the 20th century. He may laugh sometimes and pat kiddies on the head — and what politician doesn't in the practice of his trade? But he is essentially a hard, shrewd man who has taken advantage of the failure of the Western Allies to drive a hard bargain in Germany. Like it or not, they now must listen to what he has to say—and no amount of protesting and demonstrating against his presence will cover up that fact.

He is in no mood to be sold anything. He is looking for nothing to buy. Obviously, he wants to see the United States. But more obviously, he wants to be heard by American politicians and businessmen — the kind of people who can make decisions that might stimulate trade between his country and theirs. The alternative to trade would be more rumblings of war.

His visit here and the return visit of President Eisenhower to Russia are so far from the "visiting fireman" concept that any hint of impressing an out-of-town visitor is ridiculous.

No Reform Without Enforcement

Passage of a stiff labor-reform law in this session of Congress has been a jolt to the unionists who thought and said it couldn't be done.

It has been a shot in the arm for all the people who said it needed to be done, on the other hand. But the mere passage of a stiff law doesn't prove a thing.

The tough part of the labor-reform movement, if that's what it is, comes 60 days after the new law's signing, when it goes

Blow for Freedom In Ohio

'Printers' Ink, weekly magazine of advertising and marketing, says Ohio's right-to-advertise law that goes into effect Nov. 2 is likely to set off campaigns to pass similar laws in other states. A blow for freedom has been struck.

The significance of the Ohio law, which prevents any state agency or board with licensing powers from setting up regulations to control advertising, is the fact it was the first blow in a cause that was thought to be hopeless. Politicians had closed minds, it was believed.

If resistance can be overcome in one state, it can be overcome in all states. The Ohio pattern will be studied closely for use by other advertising people when the time comes to join the issue.

Two significant details are being noted.

1. The Ohio proposal had the support of Gov. DiSalle.

When it came to a vote, there was no doubt of its passage. It was adopted unanimously by the Ohio Senate and with only two dissenting votes by the House of Representatives. A close note would have been more defeat than victory.

The groundwork had been taken care of thoroughly. Once the legislators had been given the correct information — that this was a proposal to limit public restrictions on advertising to truth and decency—nothing else the question was an open-and-shut decision.

No legislator anywhere is going to stand up and be counted in public against a proposal to unshackle free enterprise from unreasonable political control. In private, perhaps. But not in public.

Once Over

There are now 70 million autos in U.S. Given a minimum of two passengers per car this means 140 million people tossing around impolite looks at all street intersections.

Estimating that the human body can hold 80 ounces of discourtesy, this means there is 70 million pounds of ungraciousness on the highways.

What 70 million automobiles can do to human nature and common politeness staggers the imagination.

Courtesy which was pretty general in the days of horse and buggy began to shrink fast with first 50 cars.

This reaction was at first limited to frowns and a slight look of irritation if a cow or horse appeared dead ahead. When the first 5,000 cars had been produced in America the snarl on human lips went up 80 per cent.

With the arrival of the first 100,000 cars the bark became as common as the spoken word, profanity came into full bloom and the traditional "Hi, neighbor" gave way to "Get over, ya big bum," "Where did you learn to drive?" and "Get the—off the road."

When the 500,000th car had hit the road the wall mottoes "Bless You," "Good Luck" and "Friendship To All" were yanked off the walls and replaced by "Gangway," "Out Of My Way" and "Yield Or Else."

BY THE TIME total cars had reached the 25 million mark human beings had developed intense scorn for one another. Most folks were declaring the Declaration of Independence said, "All men are created equal except when out in the open air."

The 50-million mark was hit some years ago, and by that time all traditions of graciousness, love of neighbor and the idea the other fellow had any rights had disappeared. Now with 70 million autos on highways the common cry is "An eye for an eye and an oath for an oath."

The leer on the human face has become fixed. Even people leaving the church parking space after the sermon on love and charity leap into their car, brush off all religious principles and battle for every inch in the rush for the home.

(We just checked with Washington to see if the 70 million figure was correct. It was. We are volunteering for the first trip to the moon.)

IT MIGHT BE a better world if everybody went fishing. The influence of angling on peace can't be belittled. Still the news that Yale, Harvard and Princeton have fishing teams which compete off Nova Scotia has its smusing side.

It's hard to realize the switch that brings the Big Three, once famed for football and crew exploits, into competitive fishing.

Will it mean an All-American Tuna Team? Will the society columns now say, "The groom was captain of the 1959 fishing team and made a name for himself in college athletics as five marlin man in three successive meets"?

We may soon hear some athletic association announcing, "We have a weak football team this season and do not look strong in crewmen, but the college is optimistic about the fishing season. It has two of the strongest blue marlin men in the East and several sophomores who have shown speed against giant tuna.

The freshman eleven will be limited to halibut this autumn, as it lacks strength."

"Now Try It With Your Arms Folded"

Britain Turns to Politics

By RAYMOND MOLEY

The political chips are down in Britain for a battle for control of the government during the next five years. Seizing the best of all moments for a test, Prime Minister Macmillan has called on the Queen, who, in turn, will dissolve Parliament and an election for members of the House of Commons will follow on Oct. 8.

An election must be held before next May, which would terminate the term of the House elected in that month in 1955.

British custom gives the party in power the advantage of fixing the specified moment and that responsibility rests upon the prime minister.

Every practical consideration favored Macmillan's choice of a date. The Khrushchev visit will be done and the President no doubt will be cogitating whether a summit meeting will be held. Or he will have decided to have one.

THIS IS REGARDED in Britain as an event devoutly to be wished. By Oct. 8, no one will know what a summit will accomplish but hopes will still be high in the British heart.

I was in England when the campaign was going on in 1955 (as I shall be next month).

In the midst of the campaigning then the President's announcement of his willingness to meet the heads of state in Geneva contributed a million votes to the Conservatives' cause.

By the time the Geneva meeting was over, with disappointing results, the Conservatives were safely installed for five years, barring a great crisis which sometimes wrecks, unimply, any government.

Later, Macmillan succeeded the ailing Sir Anthony Eden. For a period after the latter's resignation and the Suez crisis the fortunes of the Conservative government were very low indeed.

Macmillan, who seemed strikingly like a typical stuffy statesman, has proved to be a remarkable leader.

Except for an occasional revolt by individuals, he has kept his party together.

Mr. R. A. Butler, the second in importance in the party, is a master of finances and general comprehension of governmental affairs. Prosperity has blessed the country — a condition which always helps.

And while the United States has held in check the British desire to concede a lot to the Soviet and Red China, Macmillan has held firm the Anglo-American ties.

The Labor party has been torn by dissent, only partially remedied by the more or less cordial relations between Hugh Gaitskell and Aneurin Bevan.

The real difficulty of the Labor party is in finding some new dress for an old and shopworn socialism. Nationalization has been tried and the British people found it wanting.

The trade unions have been restive under the burden of supporting a political party which seemed to be going nowhere. Unpopular strikes have broken out, to the great inconvenience of the public.

Somehow the old and once shining slogans of "planned economy" and "industrial democracy" fail to win the solid middle class. Nor has the old and impotent Liberal party anything new to offer.

How Curious Is Khrushchev?

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — How curious Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev really is about how capitalism actually works may be in doubt. But how curious capitalists are about what makes him tick isn't.

The crush of those who want to dine with him and listen to his interpreter is setting records.

The nation's top industrialists and financiers who are anxious to see and talk with, or at least listen to him are well aware that many of their fellow citizens think poorly of capitalists breaking bread with Communists.

But American businessmen long have been geared to the idea that you can do business better if you know your competitor and what he's up to.

That's why there are long waiting lists for the social and political functions — perhaps they should be called propaganda functions — all across the nation.

In New York today the list of big names being turned away from the luncheon and dinner for Khrushchev is longer than the list of those attending.

Why the rush? A lot of it is just common curiosity.

But just as some farmers think it might do Khrushchev good to see how American farmers live and function, so Wall Street and Pittsburgh and Los Angeles and San Francisco think it might do him good to see how various segments of American industry operate.

Above all, though, is the desire

Master of Big Lie

Khrushchev Has Ignored Recent History

"Czar" Nikita showed himself a master of international propaganda as he talked to the National Press Club. He blandly presented the Soviet side as if it were truth itself. He ignored the facts of recent history and evaded questions about the Soviet aggression in Hungary.

The over-all tactic he used was to try to confuse and mislead the large audience throughout the nation which listened to him on radio and television.

Few, if any, of the American news correspondents present were misled. They heard the Soviet Premier say over and over again that he wanted peace and that there must be "give" in the positions of governments on controversial questions but he didn't show the slightest evidence of "giving" on anything.

Not a word did the Soviet Premier say about his own ultimatum which started the Berlin crisis last November. He insisted that the Soviet government doesn't interfere in the affairs of other nations. Yet Soviet troops today occupy nearly every one of the "captive" states in Eastern Europe.

THE PALPABLE EFFORT which Mr. Khrushchev made to give the impression that a united Germany would be dangerous to peace — and that a divided Germany isn't — fell on deaf ears. It was recalled by many that Moscow's alliance with Hitler's Germany made World War II possible.

The Soviet Premier said the East and West had made progress at the recent Geneva conference but he never revealed any proof of it. The fact remains there is no sign of a compromise today—the Communists hold East Germany and they want to infiltrate West Germany.

No solution of the West Berlin problem was offered by the Soviet Premier in his speech or was even hinted at in anything he said in his answers to questions at the Press Club affair.

Those persons in the United States who have clung to the hope that the Soviet Premier would bring some proposal that would "melt the ice" of the West Berlin problem must be disappointed today.

It is plain now that Mr. Khrushchev has come to the United States not to make any agreements or yield an inch on the rigid position he has taken but to seek merely an outlet for his own views. He said to the Press Club:

"Repetition is the mother of knowledge — we are a pretty persistent people."

This is the key to the whole Khrushchev mission. It is designed to say over and over again—with plenty of overtones of conciliatory phrasing but with no concession—what the Soviet government has been saying right along over the air, in the press and in diplomatic conferences between the East and West.

THE SOVIET PREMIER seemed a bit sensitive when, at the Press Club, he was asked about Hungary. He said somewhat irritably that he could bring up similar questions about the West. But the fact remains he never did explain why the Hungarian people were deprived of the government they chose or why their Premier was lured away from a diplomatic legation, where he had been given legal asylum and summarily executed.

Mr. Khrushchev seems to think that if he insists upon it, Americans will forget such things—all in the interest supposedly of a better understanding.

He fails to realize that it is precisely just such hypocritical answers as he gave about Hungary that make it impossible to place any trust in his words. Thus he exclaimed with considerable emphasis:

"Well, you see the question of Hungary has stuck in some people's throats as a dead rat. He feels that it is unpleasant and yet he cannot spit it out. If there is a desire that our discussion here take that turn, of course, we, for our part, could think up of quite a few questions of a similar character."

"I have had occasion to explain our position on this matter a number of times, and it was—the pleasure was particularly great to expound our position on that matter before the Hungarian people themselves, when I went there as a guest last year after the events in Hungary and I can assure you that it was a warm and enthusiastic response that we received there on the part of the Hungarian people."

"We have, a long time ago, done away with any questions that might have caused difficulties between the Hungarian people and ourselves."

TO TELL, an audience of American newsmen that the Hungarian people have, in effect, forgotten the tens of thousands of their countrymen killed by the machine guns and tanks of the Soviet army only three years ago is to insult the intelligence of those same newsmen.

The Soviet Premier talked of the advantages of state socialism, but failed to tell why such a low standard of living prevails in the Soviet Union.

He boasted about the moon rocket and about the number of engineers graduated each year in the Soviet Union but he didn't tell his audience about the neglect of other fields of knowledge or of the suppression of freedoms and liberties, especially in the press.

Indeed, the Soviet Premier closed with the startling comment: "We regard Communism as a science." This "science" is taught by compulsion.

The Soviet citizen is permitted to have only one side of any controversial question, especially in the field of economics and that's the Communist side. Still Mr. Khrushchev says again that Communism eventually will bury capitalism.

Every tyrant in history has believed that his dictatorship would continue forever and that freedom and democracy would be buried by autocracy. Adolf Hitler thought so, too.

Purely Personal

By TRUMAN TWILL

It has been my belief for a long time that tennis, a good game, has been loused up by the "precious" talk it generates. A playback of the sound track of the televised action in the Davis Cup matches would illustrate the point.

I feel that the collapse of the Cleveland Indians in their four-game set with the Chicago White Sox proved the American League pennant this year is going to the team best able to capitalize on the collapse of the New York Yankees; that the pennant will be won by the Yankees' default.

In every political career there is the possibility of a blunder that will have a disproportionate effect, such as New York Gov. Rockefeller's error of blaming the press for his own ill-conceived remark at the Governors Conference that he was relying on public opinion polls to guide his decision about being a presidential candidate.

I predicted television would boom the sale of books, which it has. I predicted television would sharpen interest in public affairs and hence in newspapers — which it has. The more people know, the more they want to know.

Pro football has clinched the proposition that T-formation quarterbacks improve with age in what otherwise is a young man's game, due to the fact the pros do not expect their quarterbacks to use their muscles as much as their skill.

I keep reminding myself to be selective about people who hear my reminiscences about World War I. The tough truth is that many of them are beginning to feel about World War I reminiscences the way I once felt about golfers who remembered how things were in the first (civil) war — the one the North won.

There isn't much good news lately, but if you look closely the books are beginning to look bushed, as if they were through with their best licks for another lawn-mowing year.

For my money, one of the cleverest things a human being ever learns to do is make clothing that looks better than a sack. I marvel at the dressmaking skill displayed in my own household.

I will not be surprised if something blows up in the story about the Chinese who says he hid four years in a church attic at Ann Arbor after failing "to make the grade" as a student in the university. I never have heard of a church, Methodist or otherwise, with enough food on the premises to keep a human being alive for four years.

My idea of the quickest way to clear up the money mysteries of prizefighting is to refuse to license a bout until a notarized statement by a bank official has established that an agreed-on sum has been deposited to the account of each fighter.

The thing that keeps gardening going is eternal hope. Already, I have begun to make plans for next year's flowers, based on something I read recently about mulching. If I can find a way to keep ahead of the weeds, my hopes, too, will spring eternal.

Listing of New Books at Salem Public Library

Autobiography is one of the most interesting classes of books in the library. The opportunity to peek into a person's memoirs and learn their interpretations of events and actions is one that appeals to most readers.

This week we want to direct attention to two books narrating the lives of two dissimilar women. "Kyra" by Kyra Petrovskaya is the autobiography of a Russian actress who gives a candid view of the Russian theatre and life in Russia during the war.

FICTION

"Desperation Trail" by L. L. Forman. Sam's parents had been butchered by Indians led by a white man. Now, grown to manhood among friendly Sioux, Sam was hunting for that renegade.

"Never Need an Enemy" by A. M. Stein. A mystery set in Yugoslavia and Venice which involves some odd characters in a search for the legendary Palace of Diocletian.

"Town House" by Norah Loftis. This is a three generation novel set in 14th century England. It follows the fortunes of Martin Reed, a serf, who defied his overlord, ran away with Kate, and eventually established a great English family.

"Case of the Mythical Monkeys" by E. S. Gardner. Perry Mason finds himself in a tricky case involving a body and a best-selling author. He had to determine if the revelations in the author's newest novel had anything to do with the case.

"Pagan King" by Edison Marshall. A colorful tale giving a new version of the King Arthur legend. Ambrose tells of his coming of age under the guidance of the wise Merlin and of his conquest of Cambia.

"Crossroads" by J. D. MacDonald. Papa Drovek and his children ran a Florida motel and market with great success until an irate discharged employee brought danger into their lives.

"Tents of Wickedness" by Peter DeVries. A clever book giving some unusual twists to the standard triangle plot. Although it is not true satire, the author mimics the style of Marquand, Proust, Faulkner and other well-known novelists.

"Murder Must Advertise" by D. L. Sayers. A new edition of the funniest, and to many fans, the best, of the Lord Peter Wimsey mysteries. The action takes place in a London advertising agency.

"The Hunt" by R. B. Erno. The tense, realistic story of a hunting party in northern Michigan. Like a man with a tragedy in his past, guides a group into the forest and soon discovers that one of the hunters is as dangerous as dynamite.

"Sour Apple Tree" by John Blackburn. Mystery involving insane men and women who kill, apparently without motive and then destroy themselves.

NON-FICTION

"Outlaw Trail" by Charles Kelly. The exciting story of one of the Old West's most notorious outlaws, Butch Cassidy, who with his "Wild Bunch" followed a four year career as a bank robber and bandit.

"In Search of a Working Philosophy" by W. J. Reilly. The author feels that three things are needed to make any personal philosophy successful. The three essentials are self-confidence, satisfying and creative relations with other persons, and a proper perspective on faith and reason.

"1,001 Questions Answered about the Mineral Kingdom" by Richard Pearl. In question and answer form a geology professor reveals interesting facts about minerals, rocks, ores, gems, and meteorites.

"Parade to Glory" by Fred Vandeventer. A 32nd degree Mason gives an authorized and complete history of the Shriners from 1870 to the present. At first dedicated to fun, in 1919, the Shriners began their hospitals for crippled children of all faiths.

"United Nations" by L. M. Goodrich. A comprehensive history of the world organization, with detailed information on the structure, goals, achievements, and variety of operations of the United Nations.

"Better Health Longer Life" by Dr. Jacob Sarnoff. Fifty years' service in the world of medicine provide the background for this helpful aid to maintaining good health.

The author discusses the functions of the organs of the body as well as various diseases.

"Brief Text in Astronomy" by W. T. Skilling. This guidebook on the stars and planets also includes up-to-date information in radio astronomy, artificial satellites and space travel.

"How the Queen Reigns" by Dorothy Laird. A detailed report on the duties and activities of Queen Elizabeth. The book describes her official duties, her powers, her ceremonial obligations, and her position as Head of the Church of England.

"Our Earth" by Arthur Beiser. Our earth's construction, its place in the solar system, facts about its weight and composition, tides, etc. The book not only describes these points, but also tells how they were discovered or came into being.

"Valley Forge" by D. B. Chidsey. A graphic recreation of the winter at Valley Forge — a cold and hungry winter for the American troops, kept alive by their indefatigable spirits. After that the outlook for America brightened and victory was near.

Telford O. Rhodes

Funeral services were held on Tuesday afternoon at the Simon Funeral Home in Pittsburgh, Pa., for Telford O. Rhodes, 88, formerly of Greenford, who died of a heart attack Saturday evening at his home in Pittsburgh.

Born Nov. 28, 1870 in Greenford, he was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rhodes.

He was a member of the Swedenborg Church, Pittsburgh.

Several nieces and nephews survive.

Mrs. William Barnett

CANFIELD — Mrs. Mary Barnett, 46, of 260 S. Broad St. died of a bronchial infection Thursday at 6 p.m. at North Side Hospital in Youngstown, following a year's illness.

Born in Steubenville, April 4, 1913, she was the daughter of William and Lucy VanKirk Bickert.

A resident here 13 years, she was a member of St. Charles Catholic Church in Boardman and the Altar and Rosary Society.

Survivors include her husband, William, whom she married in 1935; her mother, Mrs. Bickert of Canfield; four sons, Paul of Canfield, David, William and Thomas at home; three daughters, Mrs. Eileen Young of Canfield, Rosemary and Patricia at home; three sisters, Mrs. Harry Miller and Mrs. Harvey McCormick of Mineral Ridge and Mrs. Robert Chalker of McDonald; four brothers, William Bickert of Mineral Ridge, Robert and Clarence Bickert of Austintown and Daniel Bickert of Youngstown; and three grandchildren.

Services will be held Monday at 10 a.m. at St. Charles Church, with burial in Calvary Cemetery in Youngstown.

Friends may call at the Austintown Chapel of the Lane Funeral Home Sunday afternoon and evening.

"The difference is as great as the difference between black and white," said Lodge. "We believe this will become crystal clear to you as you see things for yourself on your tour around the country."

If Khrushchev was affected by this, he did not show it. He counterattacked with breezy sayings and sharp quips, particularly during the question period.

"The question of what our public listens to or reads should be decided not by any outside government or influence, but by our own people and government."

Once again, in his formal talk, Khrushchev boasted that the U.S.S.R. would overtake the United States in industrial production more quickly than planned. Then, possibly because of the makeup of his audience, he called the U.S. government's trade embargo against the U.S.S.R. "senseless obstinacy."

Before Khrushchev spoke, Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to the U.N. and Khrushchev's escort for the tour, chided him for having compared early, old-fashioned capitalism with the modern U.S. system.

"The difference is as great as the difference between black and white," said Lodge. "We believe this will become crystal clear to you as you see things for yourself on your tour around the country."

Glatman Has Gas Chamber Date Today

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP)—Harvey M. Glatman, who photographed three young models before raping and murdering them on a Southern California desert, goes to a gas chamber death today.

Glatman, 31, made no effort to delay his execution for crimes Superior Court Judge John A. Hewicker called "so revolting there is only one penalty—the death penalty."

After hearing Judge Hewicker's sentence in San Diego Dec. 17, Glatman matter-of-factly told reporters, "It's about what I wanted."

Glatman, a former Los Angeles TV repairman and amateur photographer, was captured when a fourth intended young woman victim found him off and jumped from his car.

He rejected a jury trial and pleaded guilty before Judge Hewicker to the rape slayings of Ruth Rita Mercado, 24, and Shirley Ann Bridgeford, 24, both Los Angeles models, in San Diego County.

He admitted also raping and strangling Judith Ann Dull, 17, West Hollywood model, in Riverside County.

On the pretext he was photographing them for crime magazines, Glatman bound and gagged his victims. He raped them and then they were slowly strangled.

At the intermission, the spotlight turned from the stage to Mrs. Khrushchev and her two stepdaughters Rada and Julia, who had come with all the guests from a private dinner given in their honor in the elegant, white-carpeted Waldorf Tower apartment of Mrs. Henry Cabot Lodge, wife of the U.S. ambassador to the United Nations.

Vanguard II—the size of a basketball—is expected to stay aloft 200 years.

As to the Vanguard series, Dr. John Hagen, project director, pointed out in Washington that the program originally called for the launching of only one satellite during the International Geophysical Year. Instead the 110-million-dollar program resulted in three successful satellites.

NASA said the new moonlet probably would not be visible to the naked eye and would be hard to pick out in the heavens even with binoculars.

A stage manager, watching anxiously for reaction from the famous guest, said Mrs. Khrushchev smiled, laughed and clapped her hands at the show's rollicking hit song "76 Trombones."

At the intermission, the spotlight turned from the stage to Mrs. Khrushchev and her two stepdaughters Rada and Julia, who had come with all the guests from a private dinner given in their honor in the elegant, white-carpeted Waldorf Tower apartment of Mrs. Henry Cabot Lodge, wife of the U.S. ambassador to the United Nations.

GM Announces Price Line on 1960 Models

DETROIT (AP)—General Motors Corp. is holding the 1959 price line on all its 1960 regular passenger car model.

The corporation announced today factory list prices on its five models — Chevrolet, Buick, Oldsmobile, Cadillac and Pontiac — will not be increased over 1959.

GM's announcement followed earlier reports that all of the auto industry's Big Three — GM, Ford and Chrysler — would hold the 1959 price line.

Ford and Chrysler have yet to announce their 1960 model prices. Ward's Reports, a trade publication said Thursday a holding of the price line of last year would be the car industry's answer to inflation.

The factory list price is the price of the car as delivered to the dealer. It does not include dealer charges or taxes.

GM list prices range from $2056 for the lowest-priced Chevrolet to $8,950 for top Cadillac luxury car.

The prices showed moderate reductions from 1959 in some instances.

The announced price ranges on the various models (with 1959 ranges in parentheses):

Chevrolet — $2,056 two-door 6-cylinder sedan to $2,739 four-door 8-cylinder sedan ($2,056 to $2,757).

Pontiac — $2,300 sports sedan to $3,175 convertible coupe ($2,399 to $3,184).

Oldsmobile — $2,574 two-door sedan to $3,975 convertible coupe ($2,574 to $3,975).

Buick — $2,500 two-door sedan to $3,895 four-door hard top ($2,500 to $3,895).

Cadillac — $4,475 coupe to $8,950 limousine (not given).

Two Akron Teams To Meet For Invitational Championship

City Cafe Drops Canton Squad

Will Meet Red's Bar In Finals Sunday

By DICK BRAUTIGAM

It will be an all-Akron final on Sunday in the Salem Invitational Softball Tournament.

Akron City Cafe earned the right to meet Akron Red's Bar at 2 p.m. Sunday by virtue of a 6-5 squeaker over Canton Dolph's Tavern Thursday night at Kelley Park.

Second baseman John Dakoski poked out a grand-slam home run in the fourth inning and scored the winning run in the seventh to lead City Cafe to its revenge victory over Dolph's.

It was this same Canton crew which had handed City Cafe a 6-1 defeat on Labor Day to leave an uphill battle for the Akroners in the double elimination tourney.

CITY CAFE'S WIN yesterday was its third in as many nights. Oop Eckman, who had pitched shutouts in the two previous outings, including Wednesday's 17-inning shutout over Salem Lincoln Machine, started again last night but the smoke was gone from his fireball.

The tourney grind caught up with the hard working right hander as Canton raked him for three runs in the second inning. Two singles, a fielder's choice, a walk and sacrifice fly brought in the three runs.

Akron had scored a run in the top of the first without the aid of a hit. They trailed 3-1 after Eckman finally got the side out in the second.

Larry Manson's run - producing double in the third made it 4-1 Akron and brought reliever Jack Evans to Eckman's rescue on the mound.

In the fourth, City Cafe loaded the bases on a walk and a pair of fielder's choices. Dakoski brought them all home with his inside the park home run to center field and Akron led for the second time, 5-4.

CANTON TIED IT up in the sixth on a walk to Sam Davis and Tom Davis' double.

Jack Caney, in relief of starter Dan Freudenman for Dolph's, put the winning run on base in the seventh and was charged with the loss.

It was Dakoski again who coaxed Caney for a walk. He then came romping home with the winning run ahead of substitute center fielder Jim Smith's double.

City Cafe has no easy task ahead of them in the finals. Akron Red's Bar, the top seeded team in the tourney, has won five consecutive games without a loss. City Cafe has won six games but their Labor Day loss to Dolph's means they will have to defeat Red's Bar twice to take the title. A win by Red's in the first game would wrap up the tournament.

The finals were rescheduled from Saturday night to Sunday afternoon by tournament director Dave Briskin in hopes of warmer weather. The game will bring together the tourney's most successful pitchers, Eckman of City Cafe and Lefty Rip Fugate of Red's Bar.

Youngstown Meets Tennessee A&I

Ohio Grid Squads Play 16 Saturday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's collegiate gridgers swing into their 1959 campaign Saturday, a 213-game slate which carries the Buckeye boys from border to border and coast to coast.

Youngstown, Bluffton and Xavier shoved the Ohioans into a flying start in last week's abbreviated prologue, each winning its interstate opener.

But Saturday's schedule calls for 16 games involving 21 of the state's schools. Eleven more scraps with out-of-state teams dot the program. Last week's winners will be trying to make it two straight.

Of the 213 games on the season's agenda, 104 are against foreign clubs with 51 on out-of-state grids and 53 on Buckeye fields.

Ohio elevens will travel to Minnesota, Indiana, Michigan, Connecticut, Oklahoma, California, Virginia, Kentucky, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Illinois, Texas, Massachusetts, Kansas, Wisconsin, New York and Tennessee before the curtain falls Nov. 26 as Miami invades Cincinnati for the Thanksgiving Day closer with the Bearcats.

During the same span teams will swarm over the border from 15 states.

The sprawling Ohio Conference wheels into action in a pair of Saturday night frays, Muskingum at Marietta, and Akron at Mount Union. Non-league events between Ohio teams are Bluffton at Heidelberg, Findlay at Otterbein, and Wooster at Ashland, all under the lights.

For the first time in its 50-year history, Tennessee A&I of Nashville will play other than an all-Negro opponent as the Tigers clash with Youngstown Penguins in a night game.

Other interstate tussles are: At home: Eastern Kentucky at Dayton (night), and Louisville (Ky.) at Xavier (night).
Abroad: Defiance at Adrian, Mich.; Denison vs. Trinity at Hartford, Conn.; Cincinnati vs. Oklahoma State at Stillwater, Okla.; Ohio Northern at Albion, Mich.; Ohio Wesleyan vs. Valparaiso at Port Wayne, Ind. (night); and Wilmington vs. Centre at Danville, Ky. (night).

Ohio State opens Saturday, Sept. 26, entertaining Duke in the feature of a 21-game weekend slate.

Beaver Local Lineup Against Chester Announced
Coach Jack O'Rourke of Beaver Local has announced the starting lineup for the Beavers in their opening game of the season tonight at Chester, W. Va.

The ends will be a pair of 150-pound juniors, Bill Reed and Ron McLaughlin. Jim Hall, 165, junior, and Thurman Allen, 170, will start at the tackles. At the guards will be Bill Mangano, 155, senior, and Ron Westover, 160, junior. Tom Plate, 140, senior, has won the starting center assignment.

The backfield will open with Bill Dunn, 135, senior, at quarterback, and Jim Shingleton, 150, senior, at fullback. The halfbacks will be John Smith, 150, senior, and Carl Hoppel, 130, sophomore. Hoppel is a state high school wrestling champion.

Only two seniors were lost from last year's squad, and Coach O'Rourke is counting heavily upon 15 returning lettermen to improve 1958's record of two wins and seven losses.

O'Rourke has switched two players from the positions they played last year. They are Smith, who has moved from end to halfback, and McLaughlin, who was switched from quarterback to end.

There are three new assistant coaches at Beaver Local this year. They are Tom McCall, Floreal Suarez, and Bruce Costanzo.

Game time tonight in Chester is 8 p.m.

Vicki's Jet Wins Brown Jug Trial
DETROIT (AP)—Vicki's Jet, a 41-1 shot, roared down the stretch in the 1-16 mile championship heat Thursday night and won the Brown Jug Trial at Wolverine Harness Raceway.

The three-year-old colt, owned by Les Alfred of Flint, Mich., made the distance in 2:11 1-5. Vicki's Jet was the first Michigan-owned colt to win the trial at Wolverine.

Ohio Time won the first elimination heat and Meadow A took the second.

LAUNCHED ON GRID SEASON — Hundreds of spectators turned out last night to watch a parade and attend a pep rally designed to launch the Quaker football team on a successful season. Above, the team members are being transported along the route of march. Other participants in the parade were coaches, football queen candidates, cheerleaders, band mothers, school board members, city officials, High School Band and others. The coaches and some of the players gave talks at the rally at Reilly Field Stadium. The Quakers will open their season tonight at 8 here against Cleveland Lincoln.

Chisox Face Tigers Tonight
Tribe Meets A's In Kansas City

By The Associated Press
How long is 40 years? It's nothing compared with the next 48 or so hours ahead for the Chicago White Sox. That could be all that remains in their long wait for their first American League pennant since 1919.

Going into tonight's opener of a three-game series with Detroit at Comiskey Park, the White Sox's magic number is three—any combination of Chicago victories and Cleveland defeats totaling three and the Sox clinch the pennant with the Indians second.

The White Sox could do it Saturday, at the earliest, with the help of the Kansas City A's, who are home for a three-game set with the Indians beginning tonight. Or the Sox could nail it Sunday with a sweep of the Detroit series, no matter what the Indians do.

Both the Sox and the Indians had a day off Thursday with the rest of the AL.

In the National League, San Francisco beat back Milwaukee's first-place bid 13-6. Los Angeles regained a second-place tie with the Braves by beating Cincinnati 4-3. Philadelphia beat the Chicago Cubs 5-2 and Pittsburgh whipped St. Louis 7-0.

Manager Al Lopez, who figures he's "the only man whose tense on this club," picked Bob Shaw (16-6) to face the Tigers tonight.

Either Frank Lary (17-10) or Jim Bunning (16-12) will work for the Tigers.

The Sox have seven games left — one with the Indians at Cleveland Tuesday. The Indians have eight remaining with Jim Perry (11-9) facing Kansas City lefty Bud Daley (15-12) tonight.

Much of the Indians' trouble is a hitting slump by Rocky Colavito and Vic Power. Power's average for the last 10 games is .158; Colavito's, .205.

Entide Victor at Lebanon Raceway
LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—Another cold night didn't faze Eventide, a fleet pacer than won the feature at Lebanon Raceway Thursday night and made it look easy.

With Bob Taylor as driver, the four-year-old bay gelding hung back in the middle of the pack before taking over the lead in the stretch. Eventide, of the Charles-Clark Stable, Wapakoneta, paid $7.80.

A dead heat victory by Doctor Joe and On Target in the second race scrambled the daily double. Dean Boner won the first, and combined with Doctor Joe set up a double of $28.20. With On Target, the double was worth $19.20.

Attendance was only 847. Betting reached $28,986.

Bearcats Open At Oklahoma State
CINCINNATI (AP)—The University of Cincinnati Bearcats shove off by plane today for their football opener against Oklahoma State at Stillwater.

Coach George Blackburn said "every one is fit and ready as can be" for the Saturday game.

That, however, does not include injured tackle Larry Doyle, out for the season, and Dave Six, who missed most of fall practice due to injury.

Blackburn said he has six other tackles—five of them sophomores—among 38 players making the trip. The sixth is veteran Max Messner, moved over from guard.

Ohio Time won the first elimination heat and Meadow A took the second.

Coe, Wysong Tangle Today

Champion's Game Is Much Improved

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Charlie Coe, the fantastic golfer from Oklahoma City, contends a fellow has to have a 'bunch of luck' to win matches in the U. S. Amateur Tournament, especially when visibility is near zero.

Coe, defending champion and a two-time winner, meets young Dudley Wysong, McKinney, Tex., today in a 36-hole semifinal test on the 7,010-yard, par 71 Broadmoor course.

The Oklahoma oil broker said his fifth round and quarter-final victories Thursday were achieved under 'the most miserable weather conditions' he's ever experienced.

Fog, rain and a chilling wind frequently interrupted the two rounds on the mile-high course.

The Coe-Wysong winner will meet the victor of a match involving Jack Nicklaus, Columbus, Ohio, and Gene Andrews, Whittier, Calif., for the title in a 36-hole match Saturday.

Coe was 5 strokes over par in winning his fifth-round match over Ted Gleichmann, Ventura, Calif., 4 and 3. The weather improved and so did Coe's game in the quarter-finals, but he had a job beating Walker Cup member Bill Hyndman II, Abington, Pa., 2 up. His 68 was the best score of the tournament so far.

Wysong eliminated the veteran Tom Draper, Royal Oak, Mich., 1 up in the fifth round, then beat Dave (Spec) Goldman, Dallas, 3 and 1.

Nicklaus built up a four-hole lead on the front nine against David Smith, Gastonia, N. C., and had to stand off the long-ball hitter for a 1 up victory in the fifth round. He ousted Dick Yost, Portland, 2 and 1 in the quarter-finals.

Andrews had two long struggles, winning 1 up over Dee Replogle, Oklahoma City, and by the same score over Charles Harrison, Atlanta, Ga.

Beaver 8th Grade Grid Schedule Set
An eight-game football schedule has been arranged for Beaver Local's eighth grade team by Athletic Director Richard Prest.

Prest, who is also coach of the squad, will be assisted by Lewis Lee and Urban Petros. All home games will be played at the Public School field.

One game has also been arranged for the seventh graders. They will meet Chester on the home field at 4 p.m. Sept. 25.

Eighth Grade Schedule

Mays Leads Attack As Giants Beat Braves Pitching 13-6

Dodgers Dump Redlegs 4-3

Bucs Repulse Cardinals 7-0

By The Associated Press
It's now or "wait 'til next year" for the Los Angeles Dodgers in the National League pennant race.

They open a three-game series at San Francisco tonight tied with Milwaukee's repulsed Braves for second place, two games behind the Giants, and the Giants have the edge.

Each of the three contenders has eight games left — but for each game the Braves or Dodgers lose, the Giants can lose one more and still beat 'em. If either the Braves or Dodgers win five of the eight, the Giants need play only .500 ball to take it.

That's exactly the way the three have played their last eight games—the Giants winning four and losing four, and Milwaukee and Los Angeles each 5-3.

With Willie Mays leading the charge—driving in five runs and going 4-for-4—the Giants chased Warren Spahn and blocked the Braves' bid for a first-place tie Thursday. They blasted Milwaukee 13-6 for a split in the two-game series. Los Angeles scrambled back into a share of second, beating Cincinnati 4-3 after home runs by Duke Snider and Junior Gilliam built just enough of a cushion to hold off a two-run rally in the ninth by the Reds.

No games were scheduled in the American League Thursday. In the other NL games, Pittsburgh whipped St. Louis 7-0 behind a four-hitter by Harvey Haddix, and the Phils beat Chicago 8-2.

Ed Mathews drove in all the Braves' runs, with a pair of homers and a sacrifice fly, but the Giants had it tucked away before he started slugging. Spahn (19-15) faced only four men, didn't retire any and left after only 18 pitches as the Giants scored three runs in the first inning.

Snider's 2nd homer, good for three runs in the first inning against loser Bob Purkey (12-17), followed Gilliam's leadoff walk and a single by Charlie Neal. Gilliam then scored the clincher with his third homer in the eighth inning, off Brooks Lawrence. Danny McDevitt (10-8) won it.

New Bowling League Is Organized Here

A new eight-team bowling league named the Area Merchants has been formed at the Saxon Lanes.

The league's eight sponsors are Kensington Food Lockers, S & H Company, First National Bank, Saxon Alley, Zimmerman's Furniture, Mason's Shoes, Peoples Lumber Co. and Valley View Lumber.

Gene Sommers of Mason's was high man with a three-game total of 544 when the league opened its season Monday.

High men on the other teams were J. Schaffer, Kensington, 483; W. Hanna, S & H 490; Gene Dean, First National, 474; Jack Hickling, Saxons, 453; Earl Zimmerman, Zimmerman's, 377; and Bob Campbell, Peoples, 525. The Valley View team did not roll this week.

Kensington recorded the highest team score, rolling a sizzling 2512.

Kasko, Reds Scare Dodgers

L.A. Ekes Out 4 to 3 Victory

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Eddie Kasko and the Cincinnati Reds, so to speak, threw a good scare into the hard-pressed Los Angeles Dodgers Thursday night.

Kasko's work at the plate accounted for all three Cincinnati runs. The Dodgers, however, picked up a down-to-the-wire 4-3 victory on home runs.

Kasko has twice had chances to show his talents this season and both times has produced.

Manager Fred Hutchinson said, "The loss of Roy McMillan hasn't hurt us at shortstop."

"Who's done any better than Eddie Kasko since McMillan was injured? And Eddie's had a hot bat for several weeks."

"Our infield situation is healthy with a fellow like Kasko who can play third, short and second equally well."

Johnny Temple, Kasko's teammate at second base, echoes the manager's sentiment, saying Kasko is the second best defensive shortstop in the league. Of course Temple thinks McMillan is the best.

Cincinnati threatened in the ninth inning when Los Angeles—in the thick of the National League pennant fight—tried to protect a 4-1 lead.

Frankie Robinson was hit by a pitch. After Frank Thomas singled, the Dodgers decided pitching starter Danny McDevitt was getting wobbly and sent in Larry Sherry. But he walked Willie Jones, loading the bases. Pinch hitter Ed Bailey grounded into a double play, but Kasko lined a single to left that brought in Thomas and pinch runner Bob Henrich, making the score 4-3.

Jerry Lynch batted for reliever Brooks Lawrence and drew a walk. But Temple lined out to end the game.

Duke Snider's 22nd home run, after Junior Gilliam walked and Charlie Neal singled, gave the Dodgers a 3-0 lead in the first off Bob Purkey.

Kasko's bouncing fielder's choice in the fifth inning scored Jones from third to make it 3-1. Purkey hurled shutout ball after the first, but Gilliam greeted Lawrence with a homer in the eighth for the run that proved necessary insurance.

Hutchinson failed to last out the game. He was ousted in the eighth inning after protesting that a grounder by Vada Pinson was foul.

The Reds won the season series with the Dodgers, taking 13 games to Los Angeles' 9.

It's a day off today for the Rhinelanders. They resume action Saturday at Pittsburgh.

5 Rookies Played In All-Star Game

Browns Have More Freshmen Than 5-Year Vets on Roster

CLEVELAND (AP)—There are more rookies on this year's Cleveland Browns' roster than there are players who have been with the club five or more seasons.

Coach Paul Brown introduces his 38 players today to some 800 fans at the annual Cleveland Touchdown Club luncheon. Saturday night the Browns make their home debut in the Stadium in the exhibition finale against the Chicago Bears.

With two players still to be cut by next Tuesday, the Browns have 30 rookies—including all five College All-Star game participants who joined practice sessions less than a month ago.

Those five are Rich Kreitling of Illinois, offensive end; Bob Patek of Michigan, offensive halfback; John Wooten of Colorado, offensive guard; Francis O'Brien of Michigan State, offensive tackle; and Dick Schafrauth of Ohio State, defensive end.

The other rookies are Farrell Funston, offensive end from College of the Pacific; Floyd Peters, defensive tackle from San Francisco State; Bernie Parrish, defensive halfback from Florida; Dave Lloyd, center from Georgia; and Dick LeBeau, defensive halfback from Ohio State.

Tackle Lou (The Toe) Groza has been with the club since it was organized here in 1946; and defensive halfback Warren Lahr will be in his 11th season. It would be Lahr's 12th had he not been sidelined during 1948 following an exhibition game injury.

Halfback Ray Renfro and line-backer Walt Michaels are going into their eighth season in Brownie uniforms.

Linebacker Chuck Noll, halfback Ken Konz, and Bob Gain are coming up for No. 7—Gain at a new position, defensive end.

Mike McCormack had pro football experience with the New York Yankees and Dallas Texans before he joined Cleveland in 1954.

In addition to the eight men with five or more years of service with the Browns, the roster includes fullback Ed Modzelewski, in his sixth season as a pro and with the Browns since 1955, and end Billy Howton, new to the Browns after seven years with the Green Bay Packers.

Questions and Answers

- Q—Which is Europe's youngest, in the trees, independent state?
- A—Iceland, which severed ties with Denmark in 1944.
- Q—How are certain tropical ants able to sew?
- A—For needles and thread, they use silk-spinning larvae. Holding the larvae in their jaws, the ants work the larvae back and forth to pull the edges of the leaves together and to fasten them with silk, thus making their nests.
- Q—What is the meaning of the new word "biostrophics"?
- A—The study of the demands of space travel on human beings, and of the ways of meeting those demands.
- Q—How abundant is the metal aluminum?
- A—One of the most abundant metals, about 8 per cent of the earth's crust consists of this metal.

Girls' Order to Hold Officer Installation

COLUMBIANA — Miss Betty Atkinson will be installed as worthy adviser of Columbiana Assembly, Order of Rainbow for Girls, at rites set for 7:30 p.m. Saturday at Dixon School. The public is invited to the ceremony.

Other new officers to be seated are: Sandra McBane, associate worthy adviser; Lana Keller, charity; Carol Bregar, hope; Vaughn King, faith; Nancy Hoffman, chaplain; Susan Ferrall, drill leader; Betsy Detwiler, love;

Jo Louise Harrold, religion; Sherry Ward, nature; Ruth Perrine, immortality; Linda McBane, fidelity; Sherry McBane, patriotism; Jo Ann Brown, service; Gretchen Cline, confidential observer; Shirley Budd, outer observer; Janet Davis, musician; Kathryn Farmer, choir director; Jane Hutter, historian, and Geraldine Shell and Shirley Budd, flag bearers.

TWO CHANGES IN THE offensive lineup have been listed by Coach George Fisher for the Columbiana Clippers game tonight at Firestone Stadium when they open the season by hosting the McDonald Blue Devils. Roger Fritch, senior, will start at quarterback in place of David Bailey, sophomore, and Rich Kyser, a junior, will be in the left halfback spot instead of Larry Barnhouse, also a junior.

Second session of the Ladies Monday Night League will be held next Monday at Kyser's Lanes. The season will end April 25. Mrs. Ethel Reinher has been appointed as treasurer of the loop by Mrs. Verne Rupert, president.

Mrs. Charles Bevington of Columbiana, the former Margaret Kall of Boardman, and Mrs. Herbert Davidson of Youngstown, the former Judith Maurer of Columbiana, were among the 29 nurses who received diplomas at commencement exercises Thursday night of the Youngstown Hospital School of Nursing.

THE COLUMBIANA MOTHE R S Club will resume its schedule of meetings after the summer holidays with a session Monday evening at the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. office on E. State St., Salem. A talk and demonstration will be presented on "Entertaining Ideas for Party Foods."

An organization meeting for the mixed doubles league will be held at 7:30 p.m. Sunday at Kyser's Lanes to lay plans for the season. Interested couples are invited to attend. The league will bowl on Sunday evenings.

Pandora Rebekah Lodge will meet at 8 p.m. Monday in its new location above Tyson's Store on S. Main St.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Gleckler were dinner guests Wednesday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Baker of Leetonia, honoring the birthday of Mrs. Gleckler.

Mrs. Paul Gleckler has returned to her home in Boardman after a week's visit with relatives in Columbiana.

The Philo Class of the Methodist Church will meet Thursday at the home of Mrs. A. R. Karcher.

Mrs. Carl Keller was a recent guest in the W. W. Miller home in Middleton.

Mrs. D. A. Bode of Youngstown will be the afternoon speaker today at the annual retreat today of the Women's Guild of Grace United Church of Christ.

POLL OF CONVICTS
COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — The prison newspaper polled convicts at the South Carolina Penitentiary for their reaction to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's visit to the United States.

"It's okay for him to come and talk peace," said one inmate, "but keep an eye on him."

LEAVES BOND IN LISBON
LISBON — Carl E. Farley, 28, of Navarre, forfeited a $25 bond in Mayor John Todd's court Thursday when he failed to appear on a charge of overload. He was cited by the State Highway Patrol.

PLEADS INNOCENT
YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Joseph Brack, 29, pleaded innocent in Municipal Court Thursday to a second-degree murder charge in the fatal shooting of a man in a tavern. A hearing was set for Oct. 5 and he was released under $2,000 bond. Police said Brack told them he shot Pearl Williams, 32, father of three children, early Sunday morning after Williams pulled a knife on him in the bar.

MINISTER KILLED
AKRON, Ohio (AP) — An Akron minister was killed Thursday when his car collided with an asphalt truck on the East North Street bridge across the Cuyahoga River. The victim was the Rev. Paul N. Giles, 40, assistant pastor of Mount Olive Baptist Church.

BANDITS "SACKED"

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — Four bandits surrounded the car of market owner Chester Cook. "Hand us the sack," one of them barked. Cook gave them the only sack he had. It contained four sandwiches, a bottle of hair oil and some underwear.

Lisbon Ministers

Elect Rev. Hare

LISBON — The Rev. Frank Hare of New Lebanon and West Beaver United Presbyterian Churches south of Lisbon was elected president of the Lisbon Ministerial Association at its annual reorganizational meeting Wednesday in the First Methodist Church.

He succeeds the Rev. Tom Hamerton of the Methodist Church.

The Rev. A. A. Kosower of St. Jacob's United Church of Christ, north of Lisbon, was elected vice president, and the Rev. Hamerton, treasurer.

Other members are the Rev. C. O. Armstrong of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church, retiring treasurer; the Rev. Paul T. Gerard of the First Presbyterian Church and the Rev. William Spangler of the First Christian Church.

The annual Thanksgiving service will be held in the Methodist Church Wednesday, Nov. 25, beginning at 7:30 p.m. The Rev. Spangler will deliver the message.

The annual week of prayer will be conducted during the week of Jan. 3 in the Trinity United Presbyterian Church.

President May Ask Foreign Aid Hike

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower plans to hit Congress in January with strong demands for an increase in foreign aid funds and for action to lift long-term bond interest ceilings.

Republican leaders said Eisenhower had been dissuaded from calling a special session of Congress to act on these subjects partly because the next regular session opens in a little more than three months.

Eisenhower is expected to sign the $3,225,813,000 foreign aid bill with some pointed references to the $704,182,000 Congress cut the amount below his estimates.

White Sox 'Dream'

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Winning of their first American League pennant in 40 years by the Chicago White Sox will climax a long family dream for baseball's youngest executive.

"It's been a long time coming true," admitted Charles A. Comiskey, 33, the club's executive vice president.

"Chuck," also sometimes known as "the Young Roman," is the grandson of "the Old Roman" — the tough and canny original Charles A. Comiskey, cofounder of the American League back in 1900.

Under "the Old Roman" the White Sox won six league titles, the last in 1919, six years before Chuck was born.

At 13 he sat on the White Sox bench dressed in a uniform that had "13"—his favorite number—on the back. In high school and college he was an outstanding first baseman.

After a two-year hitch in the Navy during World War II, he took over the reins as president of the Waterloo, Iowa, club for the 1948 season. He also functioned as "ticket seller, turnstile attendant, sweeper-outer and scout."

Late that year he moved up to his present post with the White Sox. He had just turned 23.

Astute Frak Lane was hired as general manager and the two set to work rebuilding the White Sox farm system and swapping players.

"It takes time and patience to build a real team," said Chuck. "Our present team is the result of more than 10 years of hard work and planning."

"I predicted three years ago the New York Yankees were dying at the grass roots — and they were. They used to have good prospects on all their farm clubs, but a few years ago that crop began to die out."

"The reason was simple. The other clubs just became more aggressive at signing up green talent. But they had to overcome a 20-year head start by the Yankees."

"Last year there were 11 young players we wanted, ranging all the way from Canada to Venezuela. We ended up with six of them. A good team is always rebuilding."

Comiskey is proud of the 1959 White Sox club, feels sturdily sure it will go on to win its first World Series since 1917.

A series of small woodcuts by the French sculptor Maillou which illustrate the story of Daphnis and Chloe, and a number of works by the popular Impressionist Degas, Renoir, Bonnard and Morisot, will be displayed. A group of etchings of Holland by Jongkind, a Dutch contemporary of the Impressionists, will be shown.

Crandall Art Studios is open to the public from 8 to 4:30 Monday through Friday, and 2 to 5 Sundays.

ART DISPLAY SET AT MOUNT UNION

ALLIANCE — A display of original art works by the modern masters will begin the new exhibit season Sunday afternoon at Crandall Art Studios on the Mount Union College campus.

The exhibit, which comes from the de Cinqe Graphic Art gallery in Philadelphia, consists of original lithographs, woodcuts and etchings by such masters as Picasso, Rouault, Renoir, and Degas and may be seen at the studios through Oct. 2.

Probably the most significant group from the artistic point of view is a series of wood engravings by the French religious artist Georges Rouault. These engravings, however, depict scenes from the circus.

How big a role Chuck will play in the future destiny of the White Sox remains to be seen. The Comiskey clan is noted for its internal fussing and fighting.

Last March a syndicate headed by Bill Veeck, one of the greatest showmen in baseball, bought the majority interest in the White Sox from Chuck's sister, Dorothy Rigney.

Chuck retains a 46 per cent interest and his job as executive vice president. The big fellow — he's 6 feet 2, weighs 205 — also has a lot of his grandfather's fighting spirit.

He isn't likely to be satisfied with a figurehead title, particularly since he believes he has proved he had the baseball know-how to help put the White Sox at the top. He intends to go right on wearing grandpa's toga.
